Brief Overview/Project Summary

Focus on local and regional energy agencies

ManagEnergy is the European Commission initiative dedicated to regional and local energy agencies. It aims to support them in being leaders in the energy transition and accelerating sustainable energy investments in regions and cities. It is based on the idea that energy agencies are in a unique position to facilitate sustainable energy investments in Europe, but also to support the development and implementation of concrete projects at local/regional level and trigger innovation.

Our past

The initiative was first launched by the European Commission in 2002 to support local and regional energy agencies, many of which have been created thanks to the support of the Intelligent Energy Europe programme. Since its launch, a series of contracts with different services providers has been used to support the implementation of the initiative. Between 2001 and 2015, ManagEnergy organised 45 capacity building workshops in different Member States and 33 networking events.

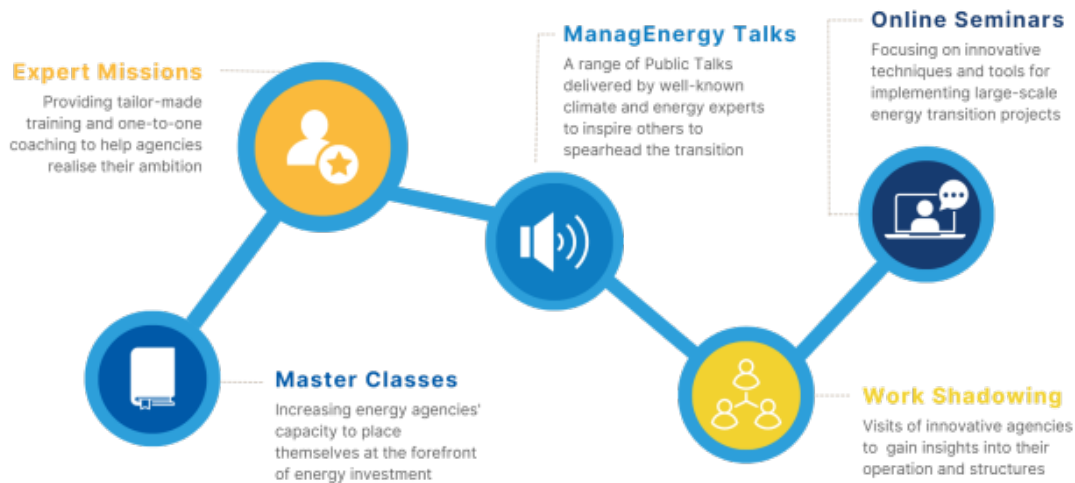

Over the years 2017-2020, the initiative delivered outstanding results, with a unique combination of capacity-building and networking activities: eight Master Classes, 21 Expert Missions, three Networking Events were organised, involving one-fourth of the 350 European energy agencies in 25

EU countries. Three ManagEnergy Talks have featured keynote speeches by high-level experts, stimulating debate and engagement on critical and emerging topics and inspiring more than 500 stakeholders to drive investments and actions on sustainable energy. The ManagEnergy Publishable Report 2017 – 2020 describes in detail all the activities performed by the initiative and how it helped energy agencies lead the Energy Transition.

Our present

ManagEnergy offers the following services that will enable agencies to become more effective across a range of activities.

Expert Missions provides on-site training sessions and direct one-to-one coaching.

Master Classes is increasing energy agencies' capacity to place themselves at the forefront of energy investment.

ManagEnergy Talks are a range of Public Talks delivered by well-known climate and energy experts to inspire others to spearhead the transition.

Work Shadowing visits of innovative agencies from different parts of Europe for 2 days to gain insights into their operation and structures.

Online seminars focusing on innovative techniques and tools for implementing large-scale energy transition projects.

The 2022-2026 work programme aims to further support the role of energy agencies by providing information, know-how, visibility, and networking opportunities. The Master Classes and Expert Missions that have made the success of the previous contract will be back to raise the skills and capacities of energy agencies. A new capacity-building service will be organised, more focused on internal processes and day-to-day activities - the Work Shadowing. ManagEnergy Talks and Online seminars will also take place.
