

TUS Research Week Competition 2025

The poster features a black background with three circular images on the right side. The top circle shows a child reading a book titled 'CRITICAL THINKING'. The middle circle shows a close-up of several grey, textured stones or gems. The bottom circle shows a green and blue patterned surface, possibly a yoga mat. The text on the left is in white and yellow. The TUS Library logo is at the bottom left, and the 2024 winners' names and categories are listed at the bottom right.

TUS Research Image Competition 2025: As part of Research Week 2025, the Library will host the third annual Research Image Competition which aims to give the TUS community an opportunity to share research through a visual format – a single research image that allows you to talk about your research in a different way.

What is a Research Image Competition: The competition is an opportunity to share and talk about your research in a different way and get other people thinking about and aware of research through different formats.

What sort of image can I submit? A 'research image' could be a photo or a screenshot of an abstract interpretation of any aspect of your research. You should have the permission of anyone involved in the research to submit the image for this competition. The 2024 entries can be viewed here

Max image size 10 MB.

How can I enter? Complete the entry form below including your image title and caption, describing your image (max 200 words) and upload your image.

What are the categories and prizes? There will be two student prizes (UG and PG) and a staff prize sponsored by the Library.

Deadline: Thursday 13 February 2025

Winners announced: Thursday 20 February 2025
